Making grand entrances and environmentally friendly choices!

Belden Clay Pavers are made using shale and fireclay directly mined from Belden's mines in Sugarcreek, Ohio, where the world's finest shale and fireclay are located. Belden's Brickmakers have been using the materials mined to craft the finest Clay Pavers for over 135 years.

The process used to manufacture Belden Clay Pavers produces a product with through-body color, low absorption properties, and exceptional performance in the most demanding situations and climates. No sealers or color enhancers are needed, and you can use standard ice melt products with no effect on the pavers. A surface installed properly with Belden Clay Pavers is virtually maintenance-free.
